THE STEWART WILL AGAIN.

CLERK ANSTEY'S FINE WINDFALL.

A FRUITLESS SEARCH FOR MISSING BOOKS-JUDGE

HILTON EXPLAINS. The Stewart will case came up once more before Surrogate Ransom yesterday and at the opening of the court Mr. Choate asked Mr. Root to produce the note for $5,000 which Mr. Angley testified on Wednesbe had given to Judge Hilton. Mr. Root, however, showed no disposition to comply with the request and Mr. Root then said he would call upon Judge Hilton to produce it under subpoena. He quoted from Greenical to show that a witness called for no other purpose than to produce a paper need not be sworn, but the Surrogate decided to swear Judge Hilton, who accordingly took the stand and the oath. The Surrogate then asked:

Can you produce this note! A.-I cannot produce it.

Q.-Have you the note in your possession! A.
There is no such note; I destroyed it very shortly after receiving it from Mr. Anstey, without his knowledge.

I did Not sek him for it.

Mr. Anstey then returned to the stand and Mr. Choste asked: Were you present when this note was destroyed?

When did you first learn that it was destroyed! A .-Last Wednesday, after returning from this court to my office, Judge Hilton told me that he had destroyed it. effice, Judge Hilton told me that he had destroyed it.

Q.—50 that you have $5,000 of his money and he has ne obligation of yours for its payment? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did Judge Hilton state to you any reasons for having destroyed this note? A.—Ne; Judge Hilton never makes any explanation to me.

A CANCELLATION OF THE DEBT.

Q.—Did you thank Judge Hilton for destroying the note? A.—Certainly.

Q.—Yes prograded to as a cancellation of the debt.

to? A.-Certainly.
Q.-Tou regarded it as a cancellation of the debt?

Q.—And he told you of it when he knew that you ore still under examination in this case? A.—He told Mr. Cheste next called upon Judge Hilton, under subpoens, to produce ledgers, journals and cash books kept by A. T. Stewart & Co. at any time during the year 1876. The Judge took the stand again and the Surrogate asked:

Have you the books and papers described in your sub-oens, except the note for $5,0001 A.—I have within each all the books that I can find. I have not the books of 1876, and have not been able to find them. I have those from 1879 to the present time. The Surregate-Yeu may ask your questions for me,

Mr. Cheste-Are they in existence? A .- I don't know;

I never ordered them to be destroyed.

Q.—What do you say as to the books kept in the leather case, as described by Mr. Anstey? A.—I have all the books I could find.

Q.-I want the original ledger, journal and cash-book of A. 7. Stewart, kept and in use at the time of his death.

A.—I have not been able to find them. I suppose they have been destroyed; I never authorized nor knew of

Q.—Have you the original articles of copartnership be-tween A. T. Stewart and William Libby! A.—Such as I

Judge Hitten-There would be no ledger that would now the interest of A. T. Stewart at the time of his death. I think you can find out from those I can show all that you could learn from those I could not find. My accounts are all open to you, and you can examine them time you like.

ABOUT THE STEWART BUILDING

Mr. Anstey took another turn on the stand and answered a good many questions about the rent of the Stewart Building, the lease under which Judge Hitten held it and the abatements made in the rent. Q.—Judge Elliten now claims to be the ewnormal the Stewart Building, does he not? A.—He is the owner of the Stewart Building.

Q.—After the removal of the firm uptown, do you remember of any rent being paid or credited to Mrs. Stew-art for the Stewart Building? A.—I do not remember. Q.—What sum do you recall as spent on the Stewart Building in atterations and repairs by Mrs. Stewart? 4.—I don't know.

Q.-Did is not exceed $600,000 ! A.-I don't know. Q.—As seen as the repairs were completed. Judge stitton accepted her delivery of the deed of the building, which you drew! A.—I think the repairs were not
